MQHA AMATEUR SELECT EXHIBITORS - It was brought to our attention that the software for the MQHA Year End Select Amateur All Around was counting some exhibitors halter points and not others. Upon reviewing the rule, it does not specifically say that the halter points will or will not be counted. The halter points have not been part of the year end select amateur award, looking back as far as 2011. To stay consistent, we will not be counting halter points for the 2015 season. The software is being corrected and the rule will be reviewed by the board for 2016 forward. We wanted to give notice that the year-end standings for the select amateur will change significantly once we pull the halter points out. We want to immediately apologize for not noticing this earlier.
